MAN:

Behave at the Louvre

Welcome to the Louvre! To enjoy the art, please follow some simple rules.

You must not touch the art in the Louvre. Some of the paintings and sculptures are very old. Touching them could damage them.

You may bring your bag inside the Louvre. However, you must turn off your phone. The Louvre doesn't want loud talking. It wants people to quietly enjoy the art.

The Louvre is a good place for families. But you must not have food and drinks inside. That could make a big mess on the art.

It's easy to enjoy the Louvre. Just follow the rules. You can see the Mona Lisa at the Louvre. But you may not touch her!

<Amazing Dogs!>

Dogs are very friendly to people. They are very smart, too. Dogs can learn quickly and help people in many ways.

Border collies are farmers' good friends. They help keep sheep and cows in their place. They are more active than other dogs. They can run around a lot and take care of other animals.

German shepherds make great police dogs. They are stronger than other dogs. They go into dangerous places. And they protect police officers from bad people.

In the past, people trained Dalmatians to protect carriage riders. These dogs rode on the carriage, and they would become mean if other people came near the vehicle.

Dogs help us in many ways. They work hard to make people happy. Which kind of dog do you prefer?

<An Amazing Safari>

Kruger National Park is in South Africa. It is a huge, famous park. Many people travel there to see animals. They go on a safari. They ride in a safari truck. This keeps them safe from the wild animals.

Kruger National Park has cheetahs. Cheetahs are fast. They are the fastest animal on land. They eat other animals. They have to move more quickly than other animals to catch them.

There are also buffaloes in the park. Buffaloes are heavy animals. They are heavier than most other animals. They can be dangerous, too.

They might attack people when they get angry. The elephants in the park are very big. Because of their size, they move more noisily than smaller animals. You can even hear them from a distance. Visitors can wait in their truck to see the elephants when they hear them coming.

At Kruger National Park, you can see a lot of interesting things. You can see what the animals look like and how they move. Would you like to go on a safari?

<A Serious Disease with a Funny Name>

Do you know about chicken pox? It's a disease. Many people all over the world get it. People usually get chicken pox when they are children. Little red bumps come out all over the body. The bumps itch a lot.

This girl has little red bumps. She has chicken pox. She should go to the doctor. And she should stay in her room for a week. She shouldn't spread the disease to other people. She should drink lots of liquids. She should also get plenty of rest. This helps her get well. She should put cream on her bumps. This helps with the itching.

Does anyone around you have chicken pox? Be careful. You should wash your hands and keep clean. You should stay away from him or her for one week.

If you get chicken pox, don't worry. It gets better after a week. After you have chicken pox once, you don't get it again. This means you can then look after your friends when they have it.

<A Fun Kind of Zoo>

My friend Kurt went to the petting zoo yesterday. He had a great time. You can touch and feed the animals in a petting zoo. This makes petting zoos very interesting.

Kurt fed the goats. He gave them pieces of corn. He likes goats, but he thinks they're a little scary. They have two horns. And they don't look friendly.

Kurt also saw some donkeys. He fed them carrots. He thinks donkeys are exciting. They can carry heavy things for long distances. Donkeys don't have horns, and they look kind. Kurt wanted to ride a donkey, but the donkeys were not for riding.

Kurt saw alpacas for the first time. He thinks they're very interesting animals. They have long necks. And they have very soft fur. Kurt liked touching the alpacas.

Kurt wants to take me to the petting zoo with him. Touching and feeding the animals sounds like great fun. I think I'll go.

WOMAN:

<Nepal's Extreme Weather>

Nepal is not a huge country, but it has different kinds of weather. It can be very hot or very cold. Its cities have very different weather than the mountains.

Kathmandu is the capital city of Nepal. It is in a valley surrounded by mountains. This makes it hotter than the rest of the country. Summers in Nepal are boiling. Kids like to go swimming. Many people use umbrellas to shade them from the sun.

Kathmandu is also very wet in summer. It's rainy almost every day. Many people like the rain because it makes the weather cool. They sit and watch the rain and enjoy the cool breeze.

Not everyone in Nepal lives in cities. Some live in villages in the mountains. The weather can be freezing there. An animal that lives there is the yak. It looks like a cow. Yaks have thick coats of fur to protect them from the cold.

Nepal is a beautiful country with a lot of things to see. If you visit, you should bring your sunglasses and an umbrella. Oh, and don't forget your thick coat, too. You might want to see the mountains.
